Hello everyone, Hope you've all survived the chills of winter and the beautiful soaking rains that we have been blessed with...

The countryside is looking great, the overall crops are looking better than I've seen in years, tanks are full and mother nature is in full swing. Lets hope Spring and early Summer brings a great finish to everyone's harvest / yields/ returns etc. Show season is fast approaching and we have all the regulars and a few extras. As always we welcome attendance at any displays we have, and if you know of any others that you want to be represented at please let us know.

Cheers Jayme
